

HOTEL Banville

A few steps from the Arc de triomphe and the Palais des Congrès, the Hotel de Banville, completely renovated, combines today the charm of the 1930's with a resolutely top-of-the-range design. The materials have been chosen carefully to create bright and cosy spaces. The heart and soul of the living room is expressed around the piano, the chimney and the old paintings. Passionately fond of music and singing, Madame MOREAU, the actual owner of the hotel, programs every tuesday evening around jazz and great French Classics, accompanied by her pianist Franck Monbaylet. Aperitif, Cocktails and snacks are on the menu. You can have dinner while listening to the music.
